DIVERSE:

STTG: We had the fewest birds so far this year: one robin and one starling.

AND: Alas, ducks! After a long wait, the first ducks of the spring have been caught. Two male mallards that we hope are the first signs of things picking up in the ducktrap.

Div: Perhaps suffering from sleep deprivation or boredom due to lack of birds, the early team started throwing pine cones at each other which has led to an all-out war. For the rest of the day many pranks were pulled off with pinecones showing up in unexpected places. Nevertheless it was cleaning day, so after lunch we got to work on that. A song thrush found its way into the Helgoland trap in the afternoon so we ringed it. KWL and ALD took some water samples in Norrvik. JVJ got ready to start doing the wader surveys tomorrow. It was JSA's birthday today so we took some takeaway pizzas and also enjoyed a birthday cake made by KWL and VIV. The ping pong tournament ended and JSA is the winner!
