DIVERSE:

HAN and LSK continued to clean the station tirelessly. The laundry room was completed as well as unclogging the White House bathroom sink. Duck boxes were disposed of and the back of the duck car was cleaned out before driving it up to Stenåsa where it resides for the winter. Archive paper was also collected for continuing to print out the diaries, recyclables in the trailer were dropped off in Mörbylånga and a quick visit was made to BCN's home to hand over some spare logs for his stove. Whilst attempting to turn the car around in a field, it became bogged down in thick mud. Fortunately, HAN and SPT, working in the dark, managed to extract it unharmed using the wooden logs in the trailer as a solid driving surface.
